

First, a seed absorbs water from the soil.

Next, a root pushes down into the ground.

Then, a stem grows upward toward the light.

Finally, leaves open and collect sunlight.

Text structure: _____